ADDENDUM: (WCS:nar 9/9/55)

The origin of organized Fabian Socialism is traceable to the establishment of the Fabian Society in London, England in 1884, largely as the result of the influence and teachings of Professor Thomas Davidson of New York, who was an occasional visitor in London. The name "Fabian" was derived from the name of Quintus FABIUS Maximus Verrucosus who became famous for his unique military tactics of avoiding direct battles and in resorting to deliberate procrastination and the using of delaying procedures during his defense of Rome against the attacks of Hannibal. Fabius kept his army always near Hannibal's but never attacked, harassing Hannibal continually, but never engaging in direct battle. The Romans grew tired of this and Fabius was removed from his command and supplanted by two generals who engaged Hannibal in open battle in 216 B. C. and were completely crushed by Hannibal. Later, by waiting for the right moment, Fabius took Tarentum from Hannibal, a signal victory. The aim of Fabian Socialism is to very skillfully permeate every segment of society with socialistic ideas, words, ideals, attitudes, tendencies and modes of thinking in order to gradually lay the foundation of a slow, steady, peaceful transformation of the social order from Capitalism to Socialism. The tactics used by Fabian Socialists are the military ones of Fabius but adapted and applied to human relations, namely, a policy of waiting, delay, indirection, avoidance of conflict, concessions, compromises, advances, zig-zagging, et cetera, all of which are to be done with great patience. The motto of the Fabians is: "To wait for the right moment patiently, like Fabius when he fought Hannibal; but when the right moment arrives one must strike energetically so as not to have waited in vain." The end of Fabian Socialism is the elimination of private ownership as an exclusive means of production and the substitution of state or social ownership of the means of production, hence, Socialism.

Reference is made to my memorandum October 11, 1955, concerning Dulles' desire to meet with the Director. The Director's notation on the memorandum was, "I can see him at 10:30 a.m., Oct. 13 if that is convenient for him." At 4:40 p.m., October 12, 1955,

[redacted] was advised by Liaison Agent Papich that the Director could see Dulles at 10:30 a.m., October 13. [redacted] stated that he would check with Dulles and he subsequently advised Agent Papich that Dulles could not make the appointment for 10:30 a.m., October 13, 1955, because of [redacted]

[redacted] explained that Dulles was involved in a conference and that the Liaison Agent would be informed as soon as possible regarding any other time which might be suggested by Dulles.

[redacted] later advised Papich that if it were possible, Dulles would like to have lunch with the Director at 1:00 p.m., October 13, 1955, in Dulles' private dining room at the CIA or at any other place convenient to Mr. Hoover. [redacted] advised that if the Director could not make the proposed luncheon engagement that Dulles was suggesting between 2:00 p.m. and 3:00 p.m., Friday, October 14, 1955. [redacted] advised that this meeting could be held either in Dulles' office or at the Bureau, to suit the Director's convenience.

make it for 2:30 p.m. on Oct 14. I am going to lunch today. H.
It should be noted that it was Dulles in his letter of October 7, 1955, who inquired regarding an opportunity for a talk with the Director.

Liaison Agent Papich has a scheduled appointment with Dulles on the morning of October 13, 1955. The results of this interview will be expedited to the Director.

ACTION:

Dulles was the one who requested to talk with the Director. Therefore, if you approve Dulles will be informed via liaison channels that the Director cannot make the luncheon engagement for October 13, 1955. If the Director's schedule permits, Dulles will be informed that the Director can see him at the Bureau on Friday, October 14, 1955, between 2:00 p.m. and 3:00 p.m. The exact time designated by the Director can be transmitted to Dulles via Liaison.

The following information was furnished to Agent Papich on the morning of January 5, 1955, by [redacted] who is the head of General Mark Clark's Working Committee which is surveying CIA operations.

[redacted] stated that after a slow start he and his colleagues were now making fairly rapid progress in the survey of CIA operations. He stated that in accordance with the original intentions of his group he has "tried to stay away from the Bureau." He elaborated by stating that so far there has been no reason to confer with the Bureau on any matters and that as far as he knew the Bureau had not become involved in any controversial question. [redacted] stated that he was quite certain that before the survey was completed he very likely would find it necessary to confer with the Bureau on some matters falling in the counterintelligence field. He advised that in this connection it might be necessary to seek the Bureau's advice or assistance.

[redacted] stated that very likely within the next two or three weeks he would be submitting some name check requests to the Bureau. [redacted]

[redacted] advised that at the present time he could not specify any certain matters which would necessitate discussion with the Bureau but that he would contact Agent Papich if and when questions arose.

The newspaper story indicated that Dulles and Strobel are in disagreement with regard to plans pertaining to the construction of the new CIA building. Strobel alleges that the General Services Administration (GSA) has the responsibility of directing the construction of the building including the designing. Dulles allegedly has claimed that CIA should completely control such responsibility.
